WITCHOUR

An old man came to me at my last birthday
He told me such a thing no one is supposed to say
Believe in life, in God, in Santa Claus
The magic world is real

Witchour
Witchour
Feed your soul
Witchour

An old woman walk near me at the main street
She gave me a rose that smells like innocence
I saw her eyes, her hair, her entire soul
The magic world is here

AFRAID TO DIE

I've been in light
Living a life that was so clean
There was a place where I was in
The sunlight shines on memories
It's just a shade
It's just the darkness of my brain

When I cry
It's a scream for the mankind
I am alive
Stuck right there inside
Afraid to die
I need to realize
We won't survive

Now I'm in dark
Living a life that is so cold
There's no one place where I should go
The full moon bright
The breeze of night
I feel like dead
I hear this voice inside my head

ARDA

Welcome home, firstborn
Praised be the lighted ones
Lord's will, full of grace you are
Twins in perfection
Their beauty remains intact for me

Welcome home, second ones
Your wisdom must be restrained
Stillborn
Your liar
Show yourself to me

Welcome home, Dark Lord
Look at me, come to me
Make me your child
In the name of God, I will

ACID RAIN

A long time ago
When the cities fell
We saw the world turning into Hell

Long ago, in the past
When the people failed
We couldn't see beyond the veil

I can't feel my bones in the acid rain
My bleeding heart is in too much pain
I'm melting in flesh and blood
Carrying up the weight of time
I can't close my eyes in the acid rain
I still hope for change

We live in pain
There's no escape
We cannot fight to change our fate
The sun still shines
Beyond the clouds
But we're all doomed to never see it

You are nothing to me and I am nothing to you
I used to believe in God, but now I'm not so sure
You are nothing to us and we are nothing to you
We used to believe in God, but now we're not so sure

UTNAPSHTIM

Take everything you want to change to fate
When all resistance has died
We can now approach the matter reasons that we're sons of
The existence have dived

The sky has fallen
And bring the rain
The pain was gone
And leave the faint

We sing oh
When the world ends
We sing oh
When the world ends

The God's ark will wash the honor of your kids
And will rise
And they flood the end
The tree of life becoming a new seed
The waves drowned at all I built

ZEALOT

He was chosen to join the twelve
He's strong and doesn't need a gun
He raised himself
Easily he conquest the master's trust
But an unexpected offer showed up his lust

His lust for money will ruin his life
For thirteen silver coins and no alibi
He sold the master to the arms of death
They won't believe him, they won't forget

You have pride while it suits you
Realize this world is too cold
Take a ride and face the night

At the mountain
Fucking suffering
God knows what he has to do
One kiss to kill
The story they told you is unfair with him
He was just an instrument in the God's plan

You have pride while it suits you
Realize this world is too cold
See the rope break down his neck
And take a ride and face the night

ICARUS

Light as a feather
Insistent as the wind
I have tried to fly
Defeated by the sun
My wings are getting burned
And I can't keep myself in the air

Day after day
My face meets the ground
I failed successive attempts
I think I should give up
(Am I wrong or right?)

Go fast!
Run! Now!
Jump down!
Get high!

So many drops of wax dripping from the sun
Oh god, will you let me die in this way?

Go fast!
Run! Now!
Jump down!
Get high!

Too high!
Watch out!
Turn back!
Fall down!
Don't die!

MOLD

Steal my gun and fire it away
Your life is gone
You found in me

A way to the fucking sadness
A way to the fucking sadness
A way

I'll break your heart
You'll do the same
Please make it stop
Forget this day

Feel my fucking sadness
A way to the fucking sadness
A way

Some people cry when it's time to leave
And we will die with no one to love
Did you decide leave me alone again?

Let's do this right
No one to blame
Run to my side
Take me away

From this fucking sadness
A way to the fucking sadness
A way

WHY DO YOU INSIST THE SKY IS BLUE

The decoration's falling down
The echoes shock on walls around
My scream changes of side so fast
An empty target to loneliness

I watch my mind, it's blowing the past
I saw the present befall

Comes in pain and go with no feel
The footprints overwhelming the real
Before the dawn I ripped the sketch
The single truth that I had

I watch my mind, it's blowing the past
I saw the present befall

I tried to go ahead
But now I wanna back to that room
Where the words can be true

I don't want the silence
Because my screams are now my only crowd
When my heartstring shatters to a nearer never
And the madness leave me confused
I'll be waiting for the light to make me blind
My bleeding is dripping slowly here inside

You try dig the bombs
To break the door of where I live alone
But my crying remains strong
Get over this, because you're bringing the pain
And the money eats your faint
I saw the present befall

I tried to go ahead
But now I wanna make you disappear
Why do you insist the sky is blue?

DEMONS TO SOME

Somewhere in time
Whispers will blur your eyes
Keep all your fears inside
We are the cenobites
